CARNE GOLF LINKS

WILD ATLANTIC DUNES

Course Planner

WELCOME TO CARNE GOLF LINKS

Shortly after Carne opened its full eighteen for play, Eddie Hackett suggested that a new nine be built through the spectacular dunes that so characterised his own back nine.

The potential was apparent for all to see.

The project commenced ten years later, initially with the assistance of American designer, Jim Engh and in more recent years under the guidance of Scottish course architect, Ally McIntosh.

Hackett's philosophy for respecting the natural landscape was strictly adhered to and in July 2013, The Kilmore nine was finally unveiled to rapturous reviews. The raw, untamed nature of the links is, perhaps more evident with these holes than on Hackett's original course. The drama is increased as the holes weave their way through the awe inspiring corners of the dune system.

We have now integrated the Kilmore Nine with the Hackett back nine to create the Wild Atlantic Dunes course, and in doing so have probably created the most spectacular and dramatic links golf course in the world.

A visit to Carne would be incomplete without playing both courses. Carne offers traditional, raw, links golf at its very best in a truly unique and idyllic location. Golf at the edge of the earth.
